

The Daily Courant.

Friday September 24. 1703.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 25.

Letters from Genoa of the 25th of last Month advise, that Bills for 700000 Crowns were remitted thither for the Use of the Squadron commanded by Sir Cloudfly Shovel, shortly expected in those Seas: That that Republick has sent great Complaints to the Court of France, about the taking of one of their Merchant Ships richly laden from Smirna by 4 French Men of War in the Height of Leghorne; and has demanded that she may be forthwith set at Liberty: The Duke of Tuscany takes the Part of the Republick in this Affair. We are told likewise by these Letters, that they had News from Sardignia that the French Consul carrying some Complaints to the Viceroy against several Spanish Officers for their abusing two Frenchmen, and talking to him in a very haughty and arrogant manner, the Viceroy could not forbear caneing him; And the day after the Consul was found kill'd with a Musquet shot.

From the Amsterdam Courant, Sept. 20.

Lorrain, Sept. 10. From Madrid they write, that they had Advice from Ceuta, that a Genouese was come thither from Morocco who had ransom'd himself out of Slavery, and reports, that the Rebel Son of the King of Morocco having plunder'd the City of that Name, retir'd out of it with his Troops; that another Son, who is declar'd his Father's Successor, coming afterwards to Morocco, put to the Sword at least 10000 of the Inhabitants of that City; and that a third Son who is Governour of a Province bordering on the Kingdom of Morocco, has joyn'd the Brother who has rebell'd, and is marching with him against their Father.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 20.

From the Camp of General Reventlau near Passau, Sept. 5. The Regiment of Cuirassiers which was commanded by the late Prince Christian of Hanover, is given to the Count de la Tour, who had formerly such a Regiment when he was in the Service of the Duke of Bavaria. On the 2d the Bavarians of Scharding, who are reinforc'd to 1500 Foot, 300 Hussars, and 1600 Horfe, attempted to surprize our Foragers with 800 of their Horfe and all their Hussars: Our Men had a Convoy of but 300 Horfe, which stood several Charges for three Hours together without falling into the least Disorder, and gave time to a Reinforcement of 300 Horfe and as many Foot to joyn them, with which they oblig'd the Enemies to retire with Precipitation into the Retrenchments that we lately forc'd; in their retreat they took and carried off 30 of our Men who had straggled from the rest.

Frankfort, Sept. 20. We had no Letters this Post from Ausburg. Those from Nuremberg tell us, that Rothemberg was to be deliver'd up to the Franconians to day, the Bavarian Garrison being oblig'd to Surrender for want of Wood to bake Bread and dress their other Provisions. These Letters add, that that Fortress will be demolish'd; and that the Imperialists raise great Contributions in Bavaria.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 25.

Cologne, Sept. 21. The Sums demanded by the French of our Chapter for Contributions are so exorbitant, that they cannot comply with them; whereupon the Inhabitants of this Archbishoprick are warn'd by Placarts publickly affix'd, to hold themselves on their Guard, that they may not be surpriz'd and taken by the French. We are inform'd that the Elector Palatine cannot agree with the French on Contributions for the Countries of Juliers and Bergues; and that he has given Orders to the Inhabitants of those Countries, if any French Parties come among them, to fall upon them and give them no Quarter. All the Noblemen and People of Quality of those Countries are invited by his Electoral Highness to appear at his Court at Dusseldorp in their richest Habits, that the Archduke of Austria on his arrival may be receiv'd and treated with the greater Splendor.

From the Hague Gazette, dated Sept. 24.

Berlin, Sept. 15. On the 11th the Prince of Hohenzollern entertain'd the Court at Luttenbourg with a Comedy intermix'd with Vocal and Instrumental Musick; after which a Table was spread upon the Stage, and the Queen, the Electress of Hanover, the Prince Electoral, and several Persons of the first Quality, were treated with a magnificent Supper. On the 13th a Representation of a Siege was exhibited for the Instruction and Diversion of the Prince Royal: A Fort was built on the side of the River of Schonhausen by the Model of Keyferswart; Trenches were open'd and carried on in all the Forms to the Body of the Place, and then the Assault was given: The whole was perform'd with all the resemblance to a real Siege that is possible.

Next

Next Week the King goes to Custrin to hunt the Stag, and intends to spend three Weeks in that Diversion: His Majesty has invited my Lord Raby to go with him.
